ENHANCE PORT CITIES !

Harbor Heritage Story Telling targets European port cities, rich in tangible and intangible heritage and still too rarely considered as tourist destinations.

Through a series of research and trainings, the project Harbor Heritage Story Telling intends to:

- identifying and enhancing the hidden heritage of harbor, with and for the local residents and professionals
- creating local networks of professionals and volunteers contributing to the port activity: the “Ambassadors of Harbor Heritage”
- strengthening their social and heritage skills to develop and manage multi-thematic discovery paths that will contribute to sustainable cultural tourism

HHST proposes to respond to issues raised by developing:

- A participatory method for the appropriation and tourism development of the still "hidden" heritage,
- An online training tool to strengthen heritage knowledge, capacity to develop, promote and guide new discovery paths,
- The creation of four pilot cultural tourism paths aimed at discovering port heritage in the partner cities.

Harbor Heritage Story Telling is developed by 6 European partners - tourism organizations, cultural associations, educational organizations - in 4 European cities:
Tourism office of Bastia and Petra Patrimonia - Port of Bastia, Corsica-France
PROKULTURA - Port of Split, Dalmatia-Croatia
IMTIE and Mediterranean Center of Environment - Port of Piraeus, Attic-Greece
MEDORO - Port of Catania, Sicilia-Italy
